

Editor White Quits Post On Committee

WILL CONTINUE HIS SERVICE AS HONORARY HEAD

Group Favoring Aid To Allies Accepts Resignation

Emporia, Kas., Jan. 2.—(AP)—William Allen White resigned today as active chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.

The Emporia editor will serve, however, as honorary head and as a member of the executive committee of the group he formed last May to help throw the economic and moral weight of the United States on the side of England and France in the European war.

"The need for hard concentrated intelligent work on the chairman job is too much for a man who has to earn a living running a country newspaper," White said in a statement. He suggested the post go to "some strong high visioned young man" who could devote full time to the work.

The organization's headquarters in New York said White's resignation had been accepted with the "greatest reluctance" and added the executive committee would meet soon to name a successor.

There has been much discussion recently of the committee's aims and some evidence of disagreement among members. Committee spokesmen insisted they wanted to give Britain all aid short of war. Critics contended the committee sought to put the United States into the war.

White's Statement
White in his statement today said: "The menace of appeasement is heavily financed and only our committee is organized to meet this threat. The need to keep public sentiment alive to the terrible danger of a let down in our armament program will require even more service from our committee than so far it has been organized to give."

"Finally, yet foremost, America must keep the lifeline open between the United States and Great Britain and must give the president every encouragement and support in his policy to aid Great Britain."

"We must impress upon Congress the need to back him. All these will call for strength, vision and a tenacity of purpose which makes the chairmanship of our committee some young man's full time job."

Propaganda Engine
"For each of this half million Americans functioning through our committee has enjoyed a vital sense that he was making his private sentiment public opinion. We all joined from Portland to Portland, from Miami to San Diego and criss-cross over this land in erecting a powerful engine of propaganda to make the American people aware of their peril."

"In that engine we in the New York office were really insignificant—flies on the wheel of the dynamo that moved events. The workers in the 700 branch chapters furnished the power. It was an adventure in democracy."

"I pledge my successor sole and unqualified support x x x."

In New York, the committee made public a telegram it sent to White at Emporia which said in part:

"The committee assures you that it will go forward on a program of all material aid to Great Britain and her allies and opposition to appeasement with the vigor that you have inspired thus far, and we only accept your retirement as active chairman with the knowledge that we will have that inspiration until our task is completed."

Last Wishes Of Showman Carried Out

Columbus, O., Jan. 2.—(AP)—The orchestra swung into "Happy Days Are Here Again" and the funeral of Dode Fisk, master showman, got underway.

It old Dode was peeping from behind the veil he must have chuckled in satisfaction. His last performance was staged as ordered by the boss of the 25-car circus once known as Fisk's Great Combined Shows.

He died Tuesday at the age of 81. Lone Sunflower

The services began sharply at 2:15 p. m. (As Dode's shows always did.) The Rev. William S. (Doc) Waddell of Springfield, O., an ex-showman, admonished nearly 300 attending the funeral to heed the red and white placard hanging above the coffin with its lone sunflower. It read:

"No crying or whispering. Laugh! Talk! Walk around and have a good time."

The show folk and friends tried bravely to oblige Dode, but there were a few tears. Mrs. Fisk followed his request that she wear a party gown, although it was very conservative.

"Circus folk are different from other people," Mr. Waddell explained. "Dode lived a Godly life; not as human beings see it, but as God does."

NEW CONGRESS WILL BE ASKED FOR HUGE FUND

Believe Ten Billions To Be Figure Set For Defense

Washington, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The new session of congress will convene tomorrow at noon with President Roosevelt reported ready to ask $10,000,000,000 more for defense, and important questions of foreign policy, taxation, the budget and anti-inflation legislation awaiting its disposition.

For the house, the old session—one which saw the neutrality act revised, the defense program begun and conscription voted—ended officially today. But senate leaders found it necessary to call a meeting for tomorrow morning so that last minute business might be attended to.

To end the old and start the new session, Vice President Garner returned to town today, to speak admiringly to reporters of his new "dude hat," a grey fedora, and confer briefly with President Roosevelt. Although sometimes in conflict on questions of new deal policy the two have maintained a cordial personal relationship.

Unfamiliar Setting
When Garner picks up the worn, ivory senate gavel tomorrow it will be in an unfamiliar setting—and one duplicated in the house. In recent weeks a criss-cross network of steel beams and girders has been erected to make sure that the roofs of the two wings of the capitol do not fall in on the legislators. The structural steel is a temporary safeguard, and will be removed as soon as permanent repairs can be made.

Speaker Rayburn and Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), house majority leader, got a verbal outline from President Roosevelt today of the chief executive's "state of the union" message, to be delivered to congress Monday.

While the issues before the new congress are less numerous than usual they are of far more than ordinary importance.

First of all is the question of the administration's foreign policy, and the president's proposal for helping England—when her cash is gone—by lending war supplies paid for from the United States treasury, the supplies to be repaid later in kind.

Washington, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The political lineup in the senate and house of representatives in the 77th congress opening tomorrow, with comparative figures for the 76th congress, follows:

Senate: (96)
Democrats	66
Republicans	28
Progressives	1
Independents	1
Farmer Labor	2
House of Representatives: (435)
Democrats	268
Republicans	162
Progressives	3

WENDELL WILLKIE
Savannah, Ga., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, unsuccessful Republican presidential candidate, arrived here today by private plane from Hobe Sound, Fla.

Willkie said he was up this way "on private business" and stopped because he didn't want to fly at night. In the morning, he said, he would either return to Hobe Sound or go on up to Tennessee.

WATER DISPUTE CLOSES MINES; 750 INVOLVED

House Water Rates Are Too High, Say Penn Workers

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Two soft coal mines whose output goes to make coke for steel mills busy on defense orders were closed down today because 750 men refused to work pending settlement of a dispute over their house water rates.

The mines, at Royal and Allison, are operated by the W. T. Wadney Coal company, now a subsidiary of the Hillman Coal and Coke company of Pittsburgh. They supply 300 ovens at Allison which are turning out 1,200 tons of coke weekly.

"The matter is entirely a dispute between the water company and our employees, in which we have no part," a spokesman for the company asserted tonight. "We have taken up the matter with the United Mine Workers, with whom we have a contract, and notified them this is an unauthorized suspension which subjects each miner to a fine of $1 a day."

Previously Free
A spokesman for the miners said the men had not quit work until they had "exhausted every other means" of obtaining relief from what he termed an unjustified rate of $2.25 a month for water, which until September, 1939, had been supplied by the Rainey company free to workers renting its houses.

In 1939 a private water company took over the water system, buying its water from the General Water company, which also is a subsidiary of the Hillman company. This private company set a rate of $1.50 a month but last October 14 the Pennsylvania public utility company decided after a hearing that $2.25 a month was the proper rate and made that retroactive.

The miners claimed the company has shut off water to many homes, including that of John Yanchoske, whose daughter was mortally ill. She was buried today.

"The men are not on strike," explained one union man. "They are staying home to carry water to their families."

First Court Fight Threatened Over Musical Program

ASCAP Says Copyrighted Song Used On Fred Allen Feature

New York, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The first copyright infringement suit in the radio music battle between the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers and the majority of the nation's broadcasters was threatened today.

John G. Paine, ASCAP's general manager, announced that an ASCAP-controlled song, "Wintergreen For President," by the late George Gershwin, was included on the Fred Allen radio program last night.

Paine said that ASCAP was preparing a suit against the Texas corporation (Texaco), its advertising agency, the Columbia Broadcasting System and CBS-affiliated stations which carried the program.

"There is absolutely no basis for such a suit. The tune mentioned was not 'Wintergreen For President' but an original theme melody."

Public Reaction
Meanwhile, the opponents in the broadcasting controversy watched public reaction to ASCAP's banning of 1,500,000 tunes from the programs of those stations, including the network, with which it failed to reach an agreement on a new contract. The music ban began at midnight New Year's eve, when the old contract expired.

"There was music murder aplenty on New Year's," said ASCAP spokesmen. "Music offered by the networks was atrocious."

A spokesman for Broadcast Music, Inc., the National Association of Broadcasters' own music-supplying organization, said that "everything went smoothly. As far as could be judged the listening interest was the same as ever."

The National Broadcasting Company and CBS said they found little immediate reaction from their listeners.

CALLES PLANNING TO GO BACK TO MEXICO

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Plutarco Elias Calles, exiled former president of Mexico, disclosed today he would return to Mexico City "shortly" to reside as a "retired citizen."

Earlier this week the 63-year-old former "iron-man" president broke a long silence to endorse the administration of President Avila Camacho, urging his countrymen to support the newly-elected chief executive "in order to save the nation in these hours of world unrest."

Calles stated today no definite date had been set for his return and that he had no intention of entering politics.

WASH OR SHAVE? Danish Bachelors Must Make a Choice

Copenhagen, (via Berlin) Jan. 2.—(AP)—National soap rationing has confronted Danish bachelors with the choice between one cake of hand soap monthly or a shaving stick. They can't have both.

Households get about 14 ounces weekly per member and soap consumption in laundries, barbershops and public baths is cut to 75 per cent of normal. Restaurant consumption has been cut 50 per cent.

Laundries are forbidden to take new customers and housewives are not permitted to increase the quantity of their laundry.

Moreover, the fat content of soap will be decreased from 80 to 60 per cent. Rationing also is extended in other directions, including butter which has been fixed at 12 ounces per person weekly—much higher than in most European nations.

GERMAN FLYING CORPS IS SENT TO HELP ITALY

To Intensify Assault In Albania And North Africa

Rome, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Italy announced officially today that a German flying corps had reinforced II Duce's aviators on Italian soil, and indicated this massing of axis airmen will intensify the assault both on the Greeks in Albania and the British in North Africa.

The Germans, said the announcement, will "help in the bitter aerial fight now developing in the Mediterranean basin." (The British have been conducting widespread raids on Fascist objectives from the Italian Alps to the Red Sea.)

Coincidentally, it was disclosed that all the Italian air corps assigned to help the Germans bomb Britain from bases on the English channel have been called home to Italy, except for a group of fighting planes.

Foreign observers believe that the wintry weather which, presumably, has been hampering attacks on Britain was one cause for this, and that the Mediterranean sector was considered a better field for action just now.

The newspaper La Tribuna said the axis air coordination, coming when the British are extending a strong effort to defeat Italy decisively, is "a warning to those who still count on the British guarantee and an announcement of new events for the enemy's haphazardness, which will be broken at any cost with iron and fire."

GOP Candidate For Judge To Be Picked

Effingham, Ill., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Republican delegates from 21 counties in the Second District will convene here tomorrow to nominate the GOP candidate for the State Supreme Court seat of late Chief Justice Norman L. Jones.

The names of at least three candidates were expected to go before the convention. They were June C. Smith of Centralia, Jesse R. Brown and Jesse L. Simpson, both of Edwardsville.

Smith was ranked as first choice of attorneys of the district voting recently in an unofficial "bar primary." In a statement, Smith, former president of the Illinois State Bar Association, said he would not be an "active candidate" for the nomination but would accept it if it is tendered him by the convention.

Brown is a former state's attorney and circuit judge. While on the circuit bench he held unconstitutional the first state income tax law and the first sales tax statute. Simpson has practiced law since 1909 and was city attorney of Edwardsville for two terms.

The GOP nominee will oppose Circuit Judge Franklin D. Dove of Shelbyville, the Democratic candidate, in a special election February 25.

Big Cities' Census Ranking

Washington, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Rankings of the major cities changed little under the 1940 census, the Census Bureau said today.

The first 10 cities were: New York, 7,454,995; Chicago, 3,396,808; Philadelphia, 1,941,334; Detroit, 1,623,452; Los Angeles, 1,504,277; Cleveland, 878,336; Baltimore, 859,100; St. Louis, 816,048; Boston, 770,816; and Pittsburgh, 671,659.

These were the same 10 cities at the top of the list in the 1930 census, and the rankings were the same except that in the decade Baltimore took seventh place away from St. Louis.

Listing all cities of 100,000 population or more, the bureau noted that there were 92 of them, one less than in the 1930 census. Newcomers to the list were Sacramento, Calif., and Charlotte, N.C., but these additions had more than offset when El Paso, Tex.,

NAVY'S PATROL BOMBER LOST; FIVE BAIL OUT

Two Stay With The Ship; One Killed In Leap

Big Spring, Tex., Jan. 2.—(AP)—A navy patrol bomber carrying two men was unreported tonight hours after five crew men leaped from the storm battered plane—one to his death. Three others were injured.

Radioman A. M. Perry, who landed unhurt, said at Lamesa the men bailed out at 17,000 feet after encountering a "terrible" storm which broke the plane's windows and sent the craft momentarily out of control.

The body of W. F. Perich, machinist's mate, was found in a plowed field near Ackerly, 24 miles to the northwest. His parachute was found a quarter of a mile away.

In hospitals were Radioman L. J. Hughes and Machinist's mates H. E. Neff and F. Archie, Jr.

Two Who Stayed
The two who stayed with the plane were Lieut. M. Hanson, navy pilot who ordered the men to bail out, and co-pilot R. B. Clarke, of the naval reserve.

Two other long range bombers which left San Diego with the missing plane at 6:30 a. m. landed at Corpus Christi at 5:15 p. m. The three ships were en route to Pensacola, Fla., on a routine delivery flight.

A radio report from the plane at 3 p. m. (CST) expressed a desire to land but said no lake could be sighted due to "blind flying conditions and that the craft had no landing wheels."

Radio contact was lost shortly thereafter. The three planes planned an overnight stop at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Asking Legislators To Recommend State Highway Policemen

Stelle Acts To Fill 100 Vacancies Caused By Those Resigning

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Governor John Stelle announced Governor-Elect Dwight H. Green's refusal to select 100 replacements for the Illinois Highway police force today by calling on Republican state legislators for recommendations to fill the vacancies.

Declaring that he was "acting in accordance with the suggestion" of the incoming G.O.P. governor, Stelle sent telegrams to Republican state senators and representatives asking them to recommend qualified men who had served on the force under previous Republican administrations.

Wire From Green
Governor Stelle, a Democrat, showed reporters a telegram from Green declining to pick state police replacements before he took office Jan. 13 and suggesting reappointment of state policemen who were "deprived of their positions in recent years by the Democratic party."

More than 100 state policemen on the 350-man force resigned their posts yesterday to take private jobs because, Governor Stelle said, they had been told by Republican county chairman that they would be discharged by the incoming Republican administration.

"The emergency is serious and that is why I today acted to follow Governor-Elect Green's suggestion that men who were on the force eight years ago be named to fill the vacancies now existing," Gov. Stelle said in a prepared statement.

MAGNESIUM FOUNDRY

Detroit, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The Ford Motor Company has begun construction of a magnesium foundry in its River Rouge plant, company officials said today, to produce lightweight castings for airplane engines.

The new unit, to cost about $800,000, is expected to be in production early in March. It will turn out castings for use in the airplane engine plant the Ford company is erecting to build Pratt & Whitney aircraft engines for the United States army.

RAF Planes Blasting Reich Invasion Bases

RAIDERS AGAIN BOMB IRELAND; NAZI MARKINGS

At Least Three Die In Night Attack Wednesday

BULLETIN
Dublin, Jan. 3.—(Friday)—(AP)—A single unidentified warplane bombed this capital of neutral Ireland before dawn today, injuring at least 12 persons and damaging several houses.

Dublin, Jan. 3.—(Friday)—(AP)—Dublin was bombed before dawn today in a new raid following up a 5-hour assault started Wednesday night upon an area of 60-mile radius around this neutral capital.

Oddly, the missiles dropped from unidentified planes included parachute-borne sea mines which the Irish government said fell on shore this morning, lying unexploded and menacing in the fields.

Last night's bombs came down near Enniscorthy, 80 miles southwest of Dublin and less than 15 miles inland from the Irish Sea which separates Ireland and England. No damage or casualties were reported in this case, and the identity of the raiders was not mentioned.

In the attacks last night, however, at least three civilians were killed and two injured at Knockree, County Carlow, and one of the bombs was declared by the defense department to have borne German markings.

German Variety
The mines which fell at Enniscorthy, County Wicklow, were said by experts to be of the German magnetic variety used early in the war before Britain devised a defense system against them.

They were carried to earth by parachutes of emerald-green silk, also of German manufacture. The government information bureau said the army engineers would destroy the mines Friday and warned residents in a 3-mile radius to open their windows. Residents for a half-mile about have been moved out of their homes.

These were the localities struck in five hours of bombing, the department announced.

Duleek, five bombs, and Julianstown, three bombs. Both towns are near Drogheda, center of the Irish cattle industry supplying Liverpool, England.

Rathdown Park, Terenure, a Dublin suburb, two bombs; two houses smashed, several damaged; seven persons trapped in wreckage, but rescued; "several" persons injured.

Houses Damaged
A fortified road in the Laverna Grove area of the same district, two bombs which fell in "waste ground," "some" houses damaged.

Knockree, number of bombs not stated.

The old Curragh (County Kildare) race course—now Irish army headquarters—three high explosive bombs and "a large number" of incendiaries in the area, the only damage reported in this connection being to the hay straw of a farmer.

The Enniskerry-Kilmacanogue district, County Wicklow, number of bombs not stated; those found being examined by experts.

It was suggested in some unofficial quarters that the raiding planes were German craft repulsed by the British from an attack on Liverpool itself, 150 miles eastward across the Irish Sea.

Parity Payments' Increase Is Urged

Wholesale Prices Soar In Denmark

Washington, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Senator Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate subcommittee on agricultural appropriations, said today he would advocate increased "parity payments" for farmers in the next fiscal year.

This was his answer to speculation on Capitol Hill that a drive for economy in non-defense expenditures might mean the elimination of parity payments. Congress provided $312,000,000 for this purpose in the current fiscal year.

Parity payments are designed to raise the purchasing power represented by farm products toward the level that prevailed in 1909-14.

Russell said he also was determined to maintain the customary half-billion dollar appropriation for soil conservation payments and to guard against any decrease in funds for surplus disposal operations and farm tenant loans.

British Units Go 75 Miles Within Libya

SINGLE BREMEN OUT FOR HEAVY NIGHT BOMBING

Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 2.—(AP)—British mechanized forces were reported operating 75 miles beyond the Egyptian border in Libya today in a possible prelude to an attack on the big Italian base at Tobruk even before the anticipated fall of besieged Bardia.

With these forces declared to be firmly holding a stretch of the road leading from Bardia to Tobruk, 80 miles west of the Egyptian border, the RAF lashed out anew last night against Bardia, on the Mediterranean coast, and other Fascist objectives deep in the Libyan desert.

Blast Air Fields
Besides Bardia, the RAF's objectives included Derna, 175 miles within Libya, and the air bases at Tmimi and Gazala. The RAF command said landing fields were blasted, resulting in the destruction of four grounded Fascist planes and damage to others.

After 17 days of siege there still was no indication of any immediate British attempt to wrest Bardia from its 20,000 beleaguered defenders.

Instead, indications pointed to a likely thrust against Tobruk, where Italian forces have been busily strengthening their forces. Just what the British will do probably will be governed by the weather for the next 30 days—a period in which there usually are torrential rains, sandstorms and freezing nights.

In the attacks last night, however, at least three civilians were killed and two injured at Knockree, County Carlow, and one of the bombs was declared by the defense department to have borne German markings.

REPORT BRITAIN AGAIN SEEKING NAVAL VESSELS

Destroyers Wanted; Washington Hears Of Some Action

London, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Britain was said reliably tonight to be urgently seeking additional United States destroyers for convoy duty and to use as anti-submarine patrols on her transatlantic lifelines.

An informant, who termed this one of the most important ways in which America could expand her aid, intimated that the destroyer question, and the need for cargo ships to replace those being sunk would be among the first matters brought up when Lord Halifax arrives in Washington as the new British ambassador.

Peril To Foods
British maritime circles pointed to the recent assertion of Food Minister Lord Woolton that "the enemy is making a direct attack on our foodstuffs" and that "the danger is much worse than it was in the last war."

To all this, they said, the only answer was more convoy and hunting craft.

Washington, Jan. 2.—(AP)—This capital has heard talk that the administration soon might take further steps to strengthen Britain's sea lifelines, but no announcement has been made.

It has been known for some time that the British feel the need for additional destroyers and additional cargo craft.

There is an inclination on the part of some navy officials to oppose transfer of additional World War destroyers unless this country gets an exchange comparable to the base sites which Britain promised to lease to the United States in return for 50 destroyers given her last year.

Wholesale Prices Soar In Denmark

Copenhagen, (via Berlin) Jan. 2.—(AP)—Wholesale prices in Denmark have risen more than 70 per cent since the outbreak of the war, government figures disclosed today.

On the basis of 1935 prices as 100, the government index stood at 111 in August, 1939, and reached 190 last month.

The decline in agriculture is marked. Using the index of 1935 as basis, milk production now is 69, egg production is 44 and pork is 86.

The number of farms has decreased substantially through forced auctions.

MUSIC TAX
Milwaukee, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Federal Judge F. Ryan Duffy, ruling against the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, today held unconstitutional the Wisconsin law licensing music brokers and requiring them to pay a state franchise tax of 25 per cent of fees collected.

Judge Duffy's decision on the law was the first rendered by any court in Wisconsin.

Fewer Bank Robberies

Bank robberies, most of them took a year's vacation in Illinois during 1940, according to information compiled by the Illinois Bankers' association.

In fact, vacationing had become almost a habit with the bank robbery gentry, for there was only one important Illinois bank robbery in the last two years, the association says. And even that one robbery was an amateur job, in which the loss was fully recovered and the perpetrators caught.

Law enforcement officers of various classes share the credit for this unusual freedom of the state from bank robberies. Local policemen, county sheriffs and state highway officers, along with several federal agencies, have been on the alert so constantly that bank robbers were found about attempting a "job" when they knew almost to a certainty that they might get killed or laid in prison.

Banks themselves have done much in the last few years in surrounding themselves with defense and precautionary equipment.

In addition to all this ordinary anti-robber machinery the voluntary organization known as the "town guards" have added to the hazards of robbing banks. Local units of town guards are organized in nearly all the counties of the state. They are manned by volunteers and the banks take care of necessary expenses. There are some deputy sheriffs in the guards, but most of them are business men, many of them with experience in the World war in handling firearms. The state association of bankers has voted to continue in 1941 their support of the town guards, and to stimulate their efficiency by promoting local shoots to improve pistol practice.

Rewards for capture of bank robbers, with federal laws which make bank robbery a federal offense, are further factors in making the banks of Illinois virtually robber-proof.

Pedestrian Faults

Pedestrians often meet with accidents on the streets and highways in other than the usual "jay walking" methods, which are usually considered as crossing the streets in the middle of a block and crossing at an intersection against the red light.

Here are some pedestrian faults, pointed out by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, which would be well for those on foot to guard against: "Gutter-standing" while waiting for traffic to clear, alighting from cars on the street side, failure to be alert for turning cars, walking listlessly across the street almost defying motorists, and failure to realize that they are far less visible at night than during daylight hours unless wearing or carrying something white.

"Gutter-standing" is possibly one of the greatest faults of pedestrians. You will recognize the type by the description. It's the man or woman who steps off the curb two or three feet, right in the path of a car wishing to make a right hand turn. "Gutter-standers" really do more to slow up traffic than other forms of pedestrianism's recklessness.

If you can't get across at once, stay on the curb, don't stand two or three feet, or maybe more, into the street, seriously hampering the motorist trying to make a right hand turn, and in turn slowing up traffic until this motorist gets out of the way.

Most people on foot, we believe, fail to realize that they may be almost invisible at night, especially if a motorist is facing bright lights from the opposite direction. It is a miracle more people are not killed at night by automobiles.

The majority of men and women on foot drive cars or at least ride in them and know the problems of motorists. The one safe rule for such pedestrians to follow is to remember that the motorists are only human and have to contend with reckless people on foot. The man or woman who is both a pedestrian and a motorist should be of material assistance in reducing the number of accidents in which those on foot and in cars figure. Simply think of the problems both classes face as they use the streets and strike a medium policy that will help both. Get out of that group in each class, which begins to condemn the other class the moment negotiating traffic becomes especially hazardous.

"DIVORCE" WOODS FROM PASTURE SAYS FOREST SPECIALIST

Urbana, Ill.—"Divorce" the woods from the pasture and the pasture from the woods, foresters have recommended for many years.

In the first place, there's more danger of livestock being poisoned from plants in a woods pasture than in an open pasture, says J. F. Carroll, assistant extension forester of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Common poisonous weeds in Illinois woodlands are white snakeroot, poke-weed, buttercup, Dutchman's breeches, nightshade, poison ivy, and bitter-sweet. Poisonous trees are black cherry, choke cherry, Kentucky coffee tree, black locust, buckeye, and the oaks.

Second, Carroll explains that blue-grass pasture should yield 3,000 pounds of dry matter an acre, while woodland pasture yields only 450 pounds. The nutrient value of woodland pasture is 22 per cent less, so that really only 350 pounds an acre are produced. Thus it would take more than eight acres of woodland pasture to produce as much feed value as one acre of bluegrass.

The productivity of the woodland for wood crops is also impaired, and after several years the area is devoid of trees or contains only undesirable species such as persimmon and hickory.

For these reasons, the combined value of both woodland and pasture doesn't approach what the site would have produced either in woods or pasture separately.

Grazed woods can be restored to their original productivity by complete removal of livestock, Carroll concluded.

The planting and care of trees, and pasture improvement are two of five practices being stressed to enable farmers to get more conservation of physical and human resources. The other practices are contour farming, seeding of legumes and grasses and the spreading of limestone. Cooperating with the College of Agriculture in the program are the State Department of Forestry and various agencies and services of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

SOCIETY WILL MEET
The Women's Missionary society of the Central Christian church will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. V. V. Glassner, 523 Rosedale Lane.

"Young Men Should Not Be Barred By Firms"—Armstrong

State Director of Draft Says Some Firms Are Discriminating

In line with the President's plea for the American people to give their united effort in the present national defense emergency, Paul G. Armstrong, state director of Selective Service, said Thursday that unfortunately certain business firms are deliberately and shortsightedly discharging and refusing to hire young men subject to the Selective Service law.

"Because the law requires a private employer to reemploy young men who have been called into the service for one year," said Mr. Armstrong, "a few employers whose patriotism has been submerged have allowed self-interest to subjugate their primary responsibility, which is the United States.

"Fortunately these employers are few. Our experience in the administration of the Selective Service Act has been a reassurance that the overwhelming majority of men engaged in business, industry and labor are thoroughly sound in their patriotism. I believe it is timely to sound this note of warning to those who are not. The warning is not a threat from the Selective Service administration, but a reminder of the fact that business, industry and labor depend for their existence upon the welfare of the American family. There are very few families today who are not directly or indirectly concerned with the success of America's present defense effort which includes every man who registers under the Selective Service Act.

"The Selective Service administration would consider it a most disagreeable duty should it become necessary to make public the names of any business, industrial or labor organization, or of any individual, who put self-interest above that of their country."

17-Year Old Prep Cage Star Seen As Basketball Phenom

Eddleman, Centralia, Bids Fair to Rival Famous Bill De Corveant

Centralia, Ill., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Not since Bill De Corveant ran wild on Chicago high school grounds in 1937 has an Illinois prep athlete captured as much statewide acclaim as Dwight Eddleman, Centralia basketball star. Whether this 17-year-old six-foot-two center will break the State High School Basketball scoring record of 497 points for a season's play no longer is doubted by his followers. Their chief subject of speculation now is how high his total will go. When his team began play yesterday in the invitational tourney at Pontiac, Eddleman carried a mark of 268 points scored in 13 games this season—an average of more than 20 points per contest and only 38 less than the combined totals of Centralia's opponents in those 13 battles. After the tournament the team has a 19 game schedule, so Eddleman will have from 20 to 23 games—depending on Centralia's success at Pontiac—in which to add to his total. He is not a flash in the pan type of athlete. As a freshman—he is only a sophomore now—he tied the individual scoring record for a single game in state tournament play. During his sophomore year he ran up 486 points in 27 games to break two points the state scoring record set in 1938 by Forrest Spruill of Orling, Ill., now of Purdue university. But Eddleman didn't take the scoring crown, for Laverne Hahs of Bradley copied it with 497 points in 28 games. Tournament plays last spring boosted Hahs total of 603 points for the season to 571 for Eddleman. In his sophomore year he scored 43 points in one game. His highest this season was 32 against Springfield; Centralia averaging 50 points per game, lost only one game of those 13 starts, bowing to Taylorville early in the season. In a return game, Centralia won 45 to 28. Eddleman's forte is basketball, but he has the qualities of an all-around athlete. Last spring he won the state high school jump title by clearing the bar at six feet, two inches. He was good enough to make the football team his freshman year, but incurred a knee injury which bothered him through his freshman and sophomore basketball seasons. So his coach, A. L. Trout, has ruled out the grid game for his cage ace.

Illinois Wins Over Kansas State Five

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Illinois, its first team playing only about half the game, racked up its fifth basketball victory in seven starts, easily defeating Kansas State tonight 45 to 29. Kansas State, finishing an eastern tour which brought five losses, counting tonight's, led 12 to 9, with 13 minutes gone in the first half. Then Coach Doug Mills of Illinois put in his first team. Walter "Foot" Evers promptly hit two field goals and Bob Richmond one to send the Illini into a lead they never relinquished. Vic Wukovits, rangy Illinois guard, paced all scorers, getting 10 points on three baskets and four free throws. Art Mathisen Illini center, and Jack Horacek, Kansas State forward, each had eight. Illinois used 18 men.

JOHNNY RIGNEY

Chicago, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Pitcher Johnny Rigney, whose engagement to Miss Dorothy Comiskey, treasurer of the Chicago White Sox, was announced shortly after the Sox hurler balked at signing his 1941 contract, came to terms with the club today. Outfielder Julius Solters and two rookies, Catcher George Dickey and Pitcher Walter Navie, also came to terms, bringing to 18 those who have signed. Dickey was at Oklahoma City last season and Navie at Shreveport.

REDLEGS WIN

Jacksonville State Hospital's Redlegs traveled to Manteno, Illinois, Wednesday night and defeated the State Hospital quintet there, 46 to 36.

Litchfield is Rated First in Winchester Invitational Meet

Mt. Sterling Second and JHS Third; Complete Pairings For Annual Tourney

Winchester.—Litchfield was rated the Number One team of the 16 entered in the annual Winchester high school invitational basketball tournament to be held January 20 to 25, according to a compilation sent in by the coaches of the teams entered. Pairings for the tournament were made Thursday afternoon with John Robinson, of Waverly, and M. G. Moore, of Bluffs, present. Mt. Sterling's hustling ball club was placed in the second position and Jacksonville high was only a short distance back of them in third place. Winchester rated fourth, Bluffs fifth, Illinois School for the Deaf sixth, Roodhouse seventh and Murrayville eighth.

Pairings for the first round are as follows: Litchfield vs. Alsey. Jerseyville vs. Bluffs. Griggsville vs. Jacksonville. Nebo vs. Roodhouse. Pleasant Hill vs. Mt. Sterling. Carrollton vs. I. S. D. Milton vs. Winchester. White Hall vs. Murrayville. Litchfield is returning to the tournament this year after remaining away for one year. The Litchfield lads have been having a good season thus far, recalling the fact that they had a good team the last time they went to the Winchester tournament and reached the finals before losing. Mt. Sterling is a newcomer to the tournament, but has been knocking off some of the better teams this year. Roodhouse and Bluffs are among their victims. Jacksonville high likewise has shown considerable promise, going strong until they met a couple reverses just before the Christmas holidays. Winchester won the Milton tournament, and has been picked as one of the better clubs in this section of the state. They were slow in getting started, but hit their stride just before the Christmas holidays.

LETTING THE AIR OUT OF PIGSKIN Drive Starts To Clean Up The Game

By Sid Feder New York, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Letting the air out of the football:

The biggest drive in years to clean up college football started at the National Collegiate A.A. convention here this week, but its ordinary folks won't hear much about it. Because the NCAA doesn't like to have too much talk going around concerning anything "scandalous" and will do any policeman work on the "Q.T."... Chief action will be in making it tough for the "wrong" teams to schedule the "right" ones. One official explained in a couple of years any school that has the finger put on it will be treated one degree colder than a poor relation if it tries to get games with colleges whose skirts are white. The whisper is two conferences are going to be sitting on a powder keg shortly.

Couple of the major coaches from the mid-west report they've been accused by certain professional grid bigshots of talking college stars out of turning pro. "Taint so," they say, but they'd rather have their boys getting started on life-time careers as soon as they graduate, while their names are still hot, instead of kidding around with the play-for-pay stuff till they cool off. And some of the coaches are willing to bet Tommy Harmon, Paul Christman and George Paskvan, the Wisconsin ace, don't turn pro. Harmon's going on the radio and in the movies in California, with Bing Crosby helping, and Christman will head for big league baseball (Yankees and Tigers please copy).

Ohio State figures to announce its new coach within a month—and no matter from what angle you look at it, it still looks like Paul Brown, the Massillon (Ohio) high school wonder man. The only reason the hemming-and-hawing has been going on over the question of whether a high schooler, no matter how good, can make the jump all the way into the toughest of big leagues—particularly to a spot that was no bed of roses even for Francis Schmidt. But Paul has the Ohio press, particularly around Columbus, all for him. And the State Football Coaches' Association, some 200 strong, has sent the university a petition urging it to hire the 32-year-old "Shortie," who was too little to play football at Ohio State when he went to school. Incidentally, when Paul's name first came up, he got a letter from one of his Massillon graduates (now a sophomore at a big Ivy League school) saying that if Brown got the Buckeye job, the boy would head for Ohio State next fall.

The top rules in the book tell you (1) don't bet on fights and (2) don't bet on the horses. Well, you can make "don't bet on football" your number 3 right now. At the coaches meeting a majority of the fellows who are supposed to know what it's all about picked the bowl games this way: Fordham, Georgetown, Tennessee and Stanford. Well, they were right on Stanford, anyway.

REPORT SINKINGS OF MERCHANT VESSELS

New York, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The New York Maritime Register today reported the recent sinkings of five merchant vessels including the Scottish Maiden, 6,993-ton British tanker which formerly traded between here and the Dutch West Indies.

The Scottish Maiden was torpedoed, the register said, but no details were given on the other losses, all freighters. They were the 5,225-ton British Kenbane Head, the 1,456-ton Norwegian Kong Halfdan, and the 1,996-ton Convallana and 1,572-ton Gunborg, both Swedish.

New Orleans Race Track Saved, But Auction Is Ruined

Group of "Civic Minded" Men Step In At The Last Minute

New Orleans, Jan. 2.—(AP)—No photo finish ever unchained more confusion than the announcement today, just as New Orleans racing was being smashed under an auctioneer's hammer, that a group of "civic minded" men had stepped in at the 25th hour to save the fair grounds track. William Hells, wealthy oil man, late in the day declared: "I put up a $525,000 check to close the deal on a 30-day option. Racing will be continued in New Orleans but I will take no part in the track." But between the time the auctioneer's hammer paused in mid-air and Hells made his statement, the jumbling developments made racing fans dizzier that a stretch duel between a dozen horses going two ways at once.

The fair grounds, beautifully landscaped pride of the city where there had been horse races for 103 years, was sold last September by the Louisiana Jockey Club for $400,000 to a real estate syndicate that planned to cut up the property into home sites. For weeks past the newspapers carried extensive advertisements that the fixtures and equipment of the track would be sold at 10 a. m. today. Promptly at that time the betting ring was filled with housewives and farmers looking for bargains. For an hour and a half Al Pallet, red-faced auctioneer, banged away with his hammer, selling about $2,000 worth of chairs, tables and desks. At 11:30 a. m. he suddenly paused to declare a 5-minute recess, then extended it to 30 minutes more and finally informed the audience that the auction was called off because a group of men, deciding to continue racing here, had suddenly taken an option on the track.

Indiana State Is Beaten By Purdue

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 2.—(AP)—A sudden Purdue rush near the close of the first half of a basketball game broke up a tight defensive battle tonight and gave the Boilermakers a 41-28 victory over Indiana State.

Captain Bob Igney went into the game to spark the drive, which netted Purdue 11 points in 21 minutes and gave it a 20-9 lead at the half. Blanken and Spruill kept the Purdue attack clicking well enough in the second half to retain the margin. Worley hit several long ones for the Sycamores and Percy sneaked under for two to keep their team within a 10-point striking distance most of the way.

Extract Tooth For Actor Clark Gable

Baltimore, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Dental surgeons who pulled a tooth from Clark Gable today found an infection that they believe is partly responsible for a shoulder pain from which the screen star has been suffering.

The extraction, performed by Dr. B. Lucien Brun at Johns Hopkins hospital, required an hour and a half. Gable submitted to the operation under a local anesthetic.

Dr. Louis Hamman, who examined Gable, said he believed the decayed root had been poisoning the actor's system, aggravating a shoulder injury suffered while filming a picture some time ago.

FAN BREEZES

By Ernest Savage

The Bowl games are out of the way for another year, but they'll probably be discussed many times. Clark Shaughnessy climaxed a great year as coach at Stanford by bringing his Indians home under the wire a winner in the big bowl.

One former Lincoln, Nebraska resident tells us that 5,000 seats to the Rose Bowl game put on sale in Lincoln, were gobbled up in 48 hours.

Taylorville, one of Illinois' strong prep teams, bowed out of the Pontiac tournament in its first game. Flora, which has only one letterman on its squad, spilled the Tornadoes in the opener 27-23.

Pontiac followers are expecting Centralia to come through to its third straight championship. Dwight Eddleman played only 11 minutes in the team's 68 to 24 victory over Aledo, but in that time he pushed in nine buckets to bring his season's scoring total to over 280.

Pontiac likewise moved out of competition in the first game, losing to Greenup 27 to 13. However, Pontiac has found, as many other cities have, that it isn't necessary to have its own team in the tournament to make the games a financial success.

Jacksonville high's Crimsons return to the hardwoods Friday night when they play at Feitshans in Springfield. The Crimsons have been getting in some training Hicks this week at the Washington school gymnasium, while the floor in their own gymnasium is being refinished.

Routt high has begun to follow a training period similar to the one adopted by Centralia. Coach A. L. Trout down there gets his basketballers out at 7:30 a.m. for a half hour's drill on shooting, and then has them back in the afternoon for team practice.

The plan has been working there, and Coach Wallace Baptist hopes he'll have some success with it here. He believes the early morning practice has increased his team's ability to hit from long distances.

Coach Al Lamb of the Illinois College Blueboys spent the holidays in New York, visiting with friends and attending the meetings of the National Collegiate Coaching association.

Ohio State Tromps Creighton, 55 to 42

Columbus, O., Jan. 2.—(AP)—A revitalized Ohio State basketball team won its second game in five starts tonight with a 55 to 42 upset triumph over Creighton University of Omaha. A lanky sophomore center, Roger Jorgensen, chalked up 20 points in leading a dazzling Ohio State team which presented for the first time a well-coordinated attack and a heads-up type of defensive play.

The Bucks had lost four in a row and were devoid of underdogs against Creighton's Blue Jays who had lost only one game in six starts. Creighton romped into an early 12 to 4 lead. Then the game became a see-saw battle but Creighton remained ahead 26 to 18 with about six minutes to go in the first half. Then Ohio State began to hit the basket and in three minutes had tied the score 27-all. At halftime the Bucks led 30 to 27 margin. Ohio State was superior in every department of play.

Soviet-Nazi Clash Is Bulgaria's Hope

Sofia, Bulgaria, Jan. 3.—(Friday)—Differences between Germany and Soviet Russia over their interests in Bulgaria appear to offer the main hope of this country retaining its independence, informed sources declared today.

(Dispatches from Yugoslavia pictured Bulgaria as apparently supine before a big German army concentrated in Rumania near the Bulgarian border.)

The general opinion of informed quarters was that Bulgaria would judge resistance futile if the Germans decided to move in.

There has been no official intimation to this effect, however, and it was said that an official statement was extremely unlikely at this delicate moment, since the Germans might construe it as an invasion invitation.

The Germans were described as preoccupied over an increase in Communist propaganda in Bulgaria. Such propaganda was said to strike a responsive chord with the people's traditional sympathy for Russia, which in Czarist days supported them in winning freedom from the Turks.

AN OLD STORY
Port Chester, N.Y., Jan. 2.—(AP)—It was an old story today for the Robert Hansons, parents of a two-day-old boy, when they were awarded merchandise prize given for the first child born this year in Port Chester. They collected just as heavily when they won with the first baby of 1939—a girl.

HAS PICTURE PUZZLE OF OLDEST HOME IN U. S. BUILT IN 1636

Mrs. M. O. Mathews, 121 Westminster street, has an interesting picture puzzle, which when put together, reveals a photograph of the ancestral home of the Fairbank family in Dedham, Mass. The house is said to be the oldest in the United States. It was built in 1636 and is still standing and occupied.

It is believed members of the Fairbank family who were first to come to this country brought the lumber with them from the old world with which to construct the home in the new land. Mrs. Mathews saw the old residence in 1904 and again in 1910. It is still used as a dwelling and is owned by descendants of the early Fairbank pioneers.

White House Has No Comments On Finance Program

Monetary, Banking Law Changes May Bring Battle To Capitol Hill

Washington, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The White House was non-committal today toward the Federal Reserve System's program for changes in monetary and banking laws, while on Capitol Hill a fight appeared to be in the making.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said the reserve system's report was submitted to congress with the president's full knowledge, but that Mr. Roosevelt had not approved it because it still was under study both at the White House and treasury.

Some Disapprove

A number of members of congress approved and some sharply disapproved the program which, among other things, would let the president's power to devalue the dollar lapse, repeal "greenback" legislation, and place tighter restrictions on bank lending.

Senator Townsend (R-De) said on the senate floor that the proposals would "take a long step in the direction in which we ought to move without further delay."

Rep. Patman (D-Tex) contended that the board had "on a number of occasions abused its power" and that "instead of giving them more power I think we should abolish that board."

Secretary of Commerce Jones (who also is Federal Loan Administrator) told reporters at St. Louis that he saw no danger of inflation. He declined to discuss the recommendations directly.

Introduce Ballard Statement In Trial

Los Angeles, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The government closed its main fraud case against Mrs. Edna W. Ballard and nine other leaders of the "I Am" movement today by introducing a statement by Mrs. Ballard concerning receipt of money.

Her assertion was made in a deposition in connection with a divorce suit brought against her son, Donald, himself a defendant in the trial by his young wife, Marjorie.

"In reply to a question as to whether she received money through the mails, Mrs. Ballard was quoted as saying:

"The St. German Foundation and receive some money for healing."

The deposition set young Ballard's alibi from his parents at $500 a month, for which it was said he lectured, taught young people's classes and acted as president of the St. German Press, the "I Am" publishing agency.

Previously government attorneys read from "I Am" publications claims of power to heal numerous diseases and of "20 ascensions in one day" purported to have been made by followers of the movement.

Modern "L'Aiglon" May Rule France

Bern, Switzerland, Jan. 3.—(Friday)—Possibility that a modern "L'Aiglon" might rule France was disclosed today when it was learned that the government of Chief of State Marshal Petain and Bonapartists were negotiating for the return of Napoleon's great grand-nephew, last of the emperor's line.

Since Adolf Hitler's gesture in returning the ashes of the original "L'Aiglon," Bonapartists, ill-fated son who never saw France, the name of the dark and handsome young prince has been mentioned frequently among royalists.

Hitler's action was declared by some observers to be a forerunner of the Napoleonic restoration, but friends of Louis Napoleon Jerome Victor Amanuel Marie say he would not be a puppet ruler.

He now lives quietly in Switzerland. Prior to learning of the current negotiations the influential French Gringore, most widely read French weekly published a laudatory article about the 36-year-old prince.

CUNNINGHAM COMET PUZZLES STARGAZERS

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 2.—(AP)—The antics of the Cunningham comet—or better, perhaps, the lack of them—have Harvard astronomers "mystified," Dr. Fletcher G. Watson said tonight.

Billed at one time as the first comet worth crowing about since Halley's in 1910, the newcomers, said Watson, "is not behaving the way we had anticipated" and is rapidly disappearing from naked-eye view without having put on any kind of a real show.

Instead of developing a tail some 50,000,000 miles in length as had been anticipated, the comet's streamer is only 10,000,000 miles long and has been just like that for about a week. There have been other comets since 1910 that have been of "comparable brightness," Watson said.

Says "Starvation" Poor Peace Basis

In a speech accepting Brith Shalom Lodge's annual citizen's award for his efforts on behalf of European minority groups, Pickett declared: "If one gives up the heart of compassion and mercy even under war conditions, it cannot later be re-established."

He declared the Friends Service Committee's task of feeding women and children in German occupied territories of Europe was "not yet fully understood" by the British, but that he hoped they would soon relax the blockade to permit movement of milk and vitamins.

The Fabulous Count Felix Von Luckner On The Prowl Again

Runs Up New Log of Ships Sunk In South Pacific Raiding Haunts

By The Associated Press
Germany's Sea Eagle of World War days, the fabulous Count Felix Von Luckner, is reported on the prowl again in his old South Pacific raiding haunts, running up a new log of British merchant ships sunk.

Luckner, who in 1916-17 ranged widely and destructively with his deceptive, romance-shrouded windjammer, the "Seeadler," is newly reported in command of a fast 7,100-ton steamer, the former British liner Gengarry, seized by the Nazis at Copenhagen.

British naval circles in London declared last night that Luckner quite probably was the commander of the heavily-armed raider which already has destroyed at least 10 ships in the South Seas.

First word of his new activities came from travelers reaching Hongkong.

Illinois Townsend Group Denounced

Saginaw, Mich., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Circuit Judge James E. O'Neill today termed the Townsend National Recovery Plan, Inc., of Illinois "an instrumentality for injury to our people and inimical to the public good" and ordered it to cease doing business in Michigan.

The Michigan Townsend National Recovery Plan, Inc., which had sought to prevent the Illinois group from collecting money in the state, was awarded damages of $700 and exclusive use of the Townsend name in Michigan.

Both factions have been at odds for several years.

Judge O'Neill said that while the Illinois corporation had been founded "for the purpose of advancing high ideals," it had "become corrupted thru political manipulation and immense profits until it has departed from the program it formerly advanced and has, through its promises of obtaining speedy pensions for old people, inveigled them into paying into its coffers large sums of money xxx."

Swine Prices Gain With Supply Slash

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Lighter supplies of cash hogs today than expected and more active buying by all interests served to boost prices. The market was 10 to 15 cents above Tuesday's average with the practical top at $7.15. Attempts to boost the top to $7.25 failed.

New York Stock Market

New York, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The stock market greeted 1941 today with a faintly hazy appearance as trading was resumed after the new year's celebration.

Gains of fractions to a point or so were recorded for scattered favorites but numerous issues staggered along at lower levels and a wide assortment held at Tuesday's final prices.

Aircrafts and Specialties picked up followings while considerable irregularity prevailed in most other departments. Motors were under water throughout and closed around their lows. Selling also cropped up in Steels at the finish.

Volume dwindled to about half that of preholiday sessions when year end tax selling contributed to the activity. Transfers approximated 500,000 shares for the full proceedings.

Aside from war doubts, still sufficiently prominent to offset generally good business prospects to a large extent, speculative quarters apparently were unable to decide on just what the Federal Reserve Board's anti-inflation recommendations to congress would mean marketwise. It was thought by some the program would be deflationary. Others were not so sure the president would approve the suggested monetary revisions. The war was the major potential share buyers stood aside to await clarification of the newest fiscal move.

Uncle Sam's Youngest Soldier

The Army's no place for softies, but evidently age has nothing to do with it. Private Harry Wohlfiel, Jr., pictured above at Fort Custer, Mich., where he's attached to the 50th Field Artillery, has attained the ripe old age of 15. He's believed to be the youngest soldier in the U.S.

STORIES IN STAMPS

English Poet Helped Greeks Win Freedom

ONE of the great heroes of modern Greece is the English poet, Lord Byron, who took an active part in the revolt against the Turks. British friendship with Greece dates from this war for independence. Byron is pictured on the stamp above, arriving at Missolonghi in 1824. The stamp is one of an issue of two commemorating the centenary of Byron's death. Early travels in the Near East gave Byron a love for Greece, and when leaders of revolutionary factions appealed to him for help, he gave money freely, hurried to join them. He united rival factions, advanced money to pay troops, build fortifications and provide medical supplies. He was eager to lead an army in the field, was offered the post of governor-general. Before he could attain either ambition, Byron's health broke. He was recovering from nervous attacks when he was stricken with fever, died April 19, 1824. Greece decreed a general mourning of 21 days. Byron's body was returned to England for burial, but his heart is buried at Missolonghi.

Greeks Advancing Slowly In Spite Of Weather Conditions

United States Observer Says Greek Fighting Spirit Superb

Athens, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Despite bad weather and strong Italian resistance, Greek troops in the northern sector of the Albanian battlefield were reported tonight to be slowly continuing their advance.

A government spokesman said conditions in this area "have not completely stopped our troops from pushing their lines forward after crushing stiff enemy resistance and occupying some villages."

Stormy Winds
On other parts of the front, the spokesman said, "operations in the last few days were hampered by bad weather, above all torrential rains and stormy winds."

"Enemy aviation, apparently on account of the unfavorable weather conditions, has not displayed any action," the spokesman said.

Somewhere on the Southern Albanian front, Jan. 2 — (AP) — A United States army observer declared today the Greeks held the initiative on every front he visited during a week's tour of the southern Albanian sector.

"Their fighting spirit is superb," remarked Maj. Thomas T. Crow of the U.S. army air corps, who arrived here today in a Greek staff car which was machine-gunned by an Italian dive bomber along the Adriatic coast.

One bullet, Major Crow said, missed him by three feet in the ditch where he dived to escape the attacker.
